

Eat, drink and be very merry

It's a wonderful thing to have friends over for dinner and a drink ... but usually, all the preparation falls on one person, and that's you!

Cooking with Giovanna makes eating and drinking with friends a hands on, all-in-together occasion of learning, laughing, cooking and of course, eating - and all in your own home. And with Giovanna at the helm, your cooking experience will take you into new territory, with menu offerings including French Country Cooking, Homestyle Cooking, and Italian and Mediterranean cooking classes. For a two course menu, you'll need to allow about two hours for preparation, and for the three course menu, allow three hours. When the time is up, following Giovanna's lead, you and your friends will be well on the way to serving up a delicious meal which has been a pleasure to prepare.

All the ingredients and equipment necessary for a successful cooking experience are supplied by Giovanna, and flexibility is the key to creating a wonderful experience for her clients and their friends. And you will be in safe hands, as she draws on the experience of her cooking workshops in France and Italy when conducting her classes here. "People feel very comfortable cooking in their own or their friends homes" she says, "it becomes a fun and relaxing way of getting together with the big advantage that you go home with new skills, and a delicious dinner under your belt". So get cooking!
